

AIGA (Malaysia) Acetylene Seminar

October 14, 2010 (Thursday) ◦ 9.00am - 5:00pm ◦ Renaissance Kuala Lumpur Hotel

Acetylene gas is generally used in the industry as fuel gas nowadays. Due to its flammable properties, many fire incidents related to acetylene gas occurred. Investigation has shown that the main cause of incidents was due to the lack of basic knowledge of acetylene gas and handling of the gas cylinders. In the past few years, many safety seminars/training programmes were conducted for the manufacturers but not for the industrial users. This seminar is therefore organised for the benefit of acetylene gas users in Malaysia.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

- ◆ Obtain a better understanding of the chemical and physical properties of acetylene
- ◆ Discover best practices for design, operations and maintenance
- ◆ Hear the latest news on acetylene related incidents and how you could learn from the experience
- ◆ Learn about gas welding knowledge and how to prevent accidents
- ◆ Safe handling of cylinders
- ◆ Emergency response for acetylene fire

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Acetylene and related industry professionals and end-users, e.g.:

- ◆ Plant manager / Engineer
- ◆ Safety and Security Manager / Official
- ◆ Transporter and Distributor of acetylene gas
- ◆ Technician / Welder who uses acetylene gas
