

Privacy Policy

Information We Collect

When you visit our website you may provide us with information about yourself or your company, such as your name, email address or log in password, that we may need to correspond with you or to enter the content restricted for our members. We will store your personal data only as long as necessary for the fulfilment of the purpose for which it was collected. Providing your personal data is entirely voluntary, however, if you refrain to do so, you won't be able to use all our services, such as entering into the content restricted to our members.

Why we use your personal data

We will use your personal data only for answering to the question you may ask, to enable you to log into the members area, to maintain relationship with you, and also to manage our website.

AIGA will not share your personal data with any third parties without your consent, except if you request us to do so and with our service provider(s) who help us manage the website who will protect your personal data and abide by applicable privacy laws and regulations.

AIGA will make practical efforts to establish technical means, procedures and policies to preserve the integrity, confidentiality and privacy of your personal data during its collection, use, transfer and storage while under our control.

Changes to Privacy Statement

AIGA reserves the right to modify or supplement this Privacy statement at any time and for any reason as determined by AIGA. For this reason, you should review this statement from time to time while you are visiting our website.